

Welcome to American National Bank

Western Bank has operated as a Division of American National Bank since 2015. We are transitioning to operate under one brand. On October 26, western-bank.com will be redirected to www.american.bank. Other changes will happen over time. We are here to make this process as seamless as possible. Please contact your banker or local branch if you have questions.

Frequently asked questions

What do I do with my Western Bank checks and deposit slips?

Use your Western Bank checks and deposit slips until they are gone. You can reorder new checks through the link to Deluxe Checks on the Personal Banking page on the website at american.bank/personal-checking or through your local branch.

What do I do with my Western Bank credit and debit cards?

Continue using your credit and debit cards. New replacements will be issued to you upon expiration of your cards.

How do I log into my online banking?

Beginning on October 26, you will now go to www.american.bank to log into your online banking account.

Click the “Log in” button on the homepage and enter your current username and password. You may be prompted to answer a few additional questions to ensure you are directed to your existing online banking appropriately.

Will my account or routing number(s) change?

No, your account numbers have not changed and will not be changing. Your routing number will remain the same as well. For the foreseeable future, all existing account agreements and all other contracts will continue to govern your account.

Will the timing change for my monthly statements as to when they are mailed or available online?

Your statements will continue to be produced at the same time without any change to the delivery method. Please be sure to look for email messages from American National Bank.

Will my electronic payments still be directed to my account?

Yes, only the bank name is changing. The routing information used to direct your payments to the bank will remain the same.

Will my mobile banking applications change?

In the near-term you will see changes to the branding on your mobile applications. This may require an update when you log into the app.

We are in the process of developing new technology to make your mobile experience better. Watch your email for information about these future upgrades.

Who do I contact if I have additional questions?

We realize change may generate specific questions. For more information, please contact your banker and they will be happy to help you. You may also contact Customer Service at 651.290.8176 during business hours with any questions.
